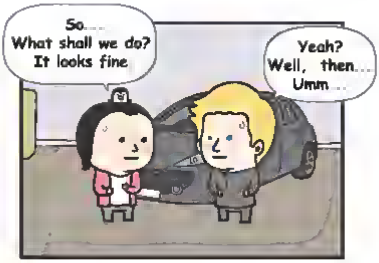
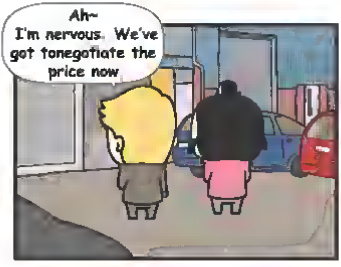
To Buy New Car: Part 2

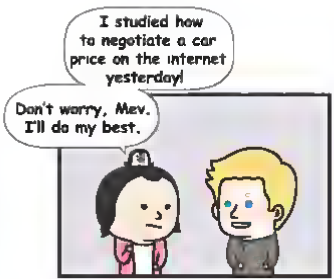


After we finished checking the car for the second time.

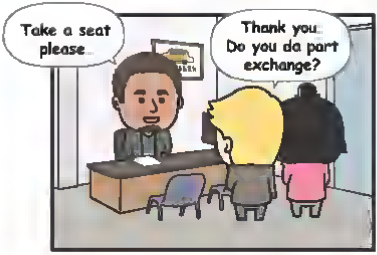
We decided to buy the car.



On the way to the dealer's office.



I said this confidently.

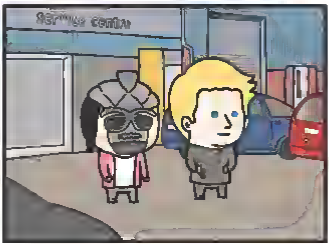


Both of us have always hated negotiating on something.

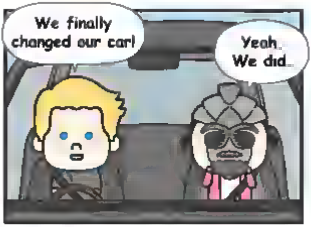
My skin shaking negotiation with the car dealer started.

I should wait after I ask a question No additional comment before him
I'll mention about other garages and..
mm-mm mmmm?
..cash buying in a bit

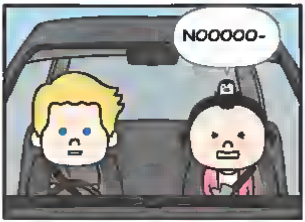
..After a while.



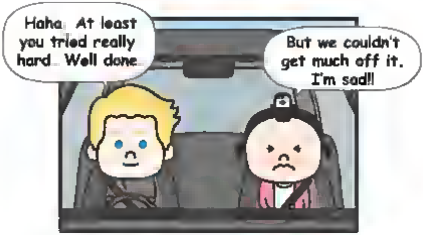
We left the office with new keys.



After we left Cindy in the garage, we head off to our home.

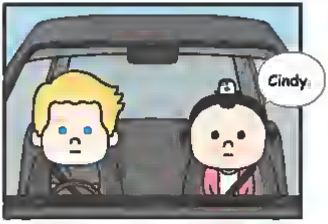


The price negotiation was a lot harder than I expected.

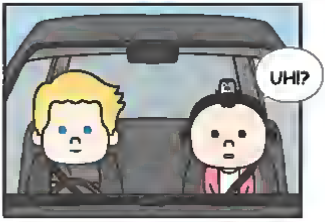


and she was a good car.

It might be because of my unsureness and dissatisfaction, ...



... the car was filled with a blue atmosphere instead of excitement.



Then, I found something.

We bought it well.

Cindy didn't have an air bag for the passenger seat.
